CLIMATE ACTION NOW:
AFRICAN VOICES

About the ACIS 2025 Summit

The Africa Climate Investment Summit, set to take place from 28th to 30th October 2025 in Nairobi, will unite climate innovators, investors, policymakers, and enablers to tackle one of Africa's most pressing challenges: the climate finance gap.

With Africa at the frontline of climate change facing significant threats to food systems, water security, biodiversity, and livelihoods; there is an urgent need to channel resources toward solutions that build resilience. At the same time, Africa represents one of the world's greatest frontiers for climate-resilient investment and green growth, offering immense opportunities for transformative impact.

As a pan-African platform, the Summit aims to:

- Accelerate the flow of climate finance.
- Spotlight investable and scalable projects.
- Strengthen the ecosystem for climate-smart enterprises.

Beyond showcasing innovation, the Summit will encourage cross-sectoral and cross-border collaboration, ensuring that investors and policymakers align with entrepreneurs to shape sustainable pathways for growth.

Through these efforts, the Summit seeks to mobilize resources, scale impactful solutions, and position Africa as a driving force in shaping a sustainable and resilient future.

Objectives Of The Summit

Catalyze Investments

To give way to new streams of climate finance by bringing entrepreneurs and investors together, and to present more than $50 million in pipeline opportunities through pitching sessions, deal rooms, and structured matchmaking that turn ideas into investable action.

Innovation Showcasing

To highlight Africa's role as a center of climate solutions, to give visibility to enterprises and technologies that are transforming communities, and to celebrate inclusive leadership, especially from women and young people driving climate entrepreneurship.

Shape Policy

To provide a platform for governments, regulators, development partners, and the private sector to discuss the policies and frameworks that enable climate investment, and to strengthen Africa's voice in shaping regional and global climate finance priorities.

Support SME growth

To equip small and medium-sized enterprises with more than funding, by connecting them to markets, technical support, and knowledge resources such as the Africa Climate Investment Landscape Report 2025, enabling them to grow, create jobs, and build long-term resilience.
